Q: How does your job support the 557th Weather Wing's mission?
I provide timely mission impacting volcanic ash bulletins to aviators.

Q: What do you find most rewarding about your work?
Learning all the different missions that are impacted by the data we help gather.

Q: What has been your biggest challenge in the military, and how did you overcome that challenge?
Biggest challenge so far is communication with family and friends. Due to having a brother in the Air Force as well, we coordinate the best we can to schedule leave for the same time periods.

Q: What has been your most memorable experience in the military?
During my deployment to Chabelley, Djibouti in support of RPA's operations, Cyclone Sagar maneuvered right up the Gulf of Aden making land fall to the south of station in NW Somalia causing flooding of the Wadi's surround base, rendering us there for a 5 day period.

Q: What is one piece of information or advice you would pass on to new Airmen joining the 557th Weather Wing's team?
Do not be afraid to admit when you're wrong, it helps you build as a person.
